Adam Rivera is an Associate at Tyson & Mendes' San Diego Office, where he primarily focuses on personal injury and premises liability cases.

Mr. Rivera is an experienced litigator with a track record of success representing both plaintiffs and defendants. In addition to civil litigation expertise, Mr. Rivera has experience in a wide array of practice areas, including contract law, estate planning, entity formation, family law, and creditors' rights law. He is currently licensed to practice law in California and Florida.

Mr. Rivera is a Southern California native who earned his J.D. from Loyola Law School, Los Angeles in 2015. Prior to law school, he attended the University of California, Riverside, where he graduated a year early and as a member of the academic honor society, Phi Beta, Kappa.

Outside of work, Mr. Rivera enjoys boating and camping with his Jackaranians, Ruby and Peaches.
